Chicken hatching by steam is now going on in Reading. Eight savings banks in New York have closed within a year. Mr. Rainer was married to Miss Stropp in New Jersey last week. Chicago packers, since March 1, have slaughtered 479,820 hogs. There was a heavy frost in Perry county on the morning of the 7th inst. The summer packing at Chicago is estimated at 455,000 to 460,000 hogs. A new larch is being planted on every soldier's grave in the Harrisburg cemetery. Wood has touched 33 cents per pound in Boston, lower than it ever ranged before. A Troy woman beat two lawyers in a case the other day. She did it with a hoe.

Brooklyn can no longer lay claim to the title of "The City of Churches." Philadelphia has 526. Fifteen million pounds of strawberries were consumed last week by the people of New York city. The Western mining regions produce $334,000 in pure bullion, and $4,500 in other metals and minerals. Texas boasts of her onions, which weigh more than a pound and can be smelled a quarter of a mile when the wind is fair. If a man has any religion worth having he will do his duty and not make a fuss about it. It is the empty kettle that rattles.

The lawyers of this country cost six times as much as the ministers, and the ministers cost a good deal more than the people. The exports from Boston since January were amounted to $17,409,579, or $2,214,170 more than during the corresponding period last year. The storm on Saturday did serious damage in the neighborhood of Pottsville. Ribbons and collars were flooded, track washed away and foundations sapped. A Massachusetts man has just had his house on an enemy. He tied a rock to his tail and anchored her in the back yard for an all night serenade. During the recent drought in Jamaica, there was no snow that it brought eight-hundredlings a bushel. Why the people did not use rum is not stated. A new French play has for a heroine a woman who never said "yes" in the whole course of her life. Then she was never asked if she wanted a new bonnet.

St. Clair has a curiosity in the shape of a bird having a chicken's head and a duck's body. It waddles about like a duck but will believe in going into ponds. Mary Lincoln, the widow of President Lincoln, was on Thursday adjudged by the Circuit Court, at Chicago, to be restored to her name, and capable of managing her estate. Simon Miller, the defaulting treasurer of Stroudsburg county, Pa., has been sentenced to pay a fine of $9000 and undergo two years imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary. Heavy rains fell last week in the vicinity of Ansonia, Georgia. Crops on both sides of the Savannah river are submerged, and the cotton lands are totally destroyed. A heavy rain in the vicinity of Tyrone, Pa., on Sunday night, has swollen the rivers considerably, and done much damage to the roads by washing out culverts and undermining embankments.

Before the next President election, which will take place on the same day, November 3, in all the different States in the Union, the people of the States will hold elections for their officers. In September, Arkansas, Missouri and Maine; and in October, Ohio, Indiana and Georgia. Later returns from Oregon indicate that the Legislature is a tie between the Democrats and the Republicans and Independent States, making the election of a Democratic U. S. Senator uncertain. The Portland Oregonian claims that the State is Republican by a considerable majority. The largest ox in the world, Gen. Grant, died at the place of exhibition on Belmont street, on Friday. It was owned by General Collector Moore and Charles Stone, of New Brunswick, N. J., who recently purchased it for $10,000 for it, and brought it from the county, New York, to Philadelphia for exhibition. The animal was so badly injured by the journey that it died after reaching its quarters. It weighed 5000 pounds, measured fourteen feet in length, and was eight feet high.

A Dishonest Cashier. New York, June 17.—Henry Schrieber, assistant cashier of the Methodist book concern, has been arrested and placed in the Ludlow street jail, charged with the embezzlement of $15,000 in bonds from the office. Coming Murder Trials in Pottsville. The Pottsville Evening Chronicle, speaking of the murder trials that are to take place in that county, says: There seems to be considerable interest manifested by the people in the coming murder trials, and for the information of those who would state that the case of James Henry, for the murder of Sanger Lee, will be called on Monday, June 17th. The case of Charles McAllister will immediately follow, and it is fully expected that both trials will be finished in one week. The case will be taken up again on the 21st of July, but what disposition will be made of it, it is utterly impossible to say.

The recent freshet on the French Broad river, Tenn., destroyed nearly the entire crop of the valley. Below Knoxville one-fourth of the product was swept away. One of the living curiosities of this Centennial year is a Kentucky child, five years old, who is boneless. It is well developed in every particular, and its limbs can be bent in a circular form, or tied in a knot. A Centennial jubilee took place in Reading on Monday, marked by a procession three miles in length, and a celebration at Lauer's Park, in which eight thousand persons participated. The city was profusely decorated with bunting. A boa constrictor which voluntarily took up his abode on an English ship at Port Natal, and made the voyage to London, completely cleared the vessel of rats and other vermin with which it swarmed while at Port Natal. Joseph S. Neville committed suicide in a cell of the Jersey City Prison on Saturday, by severing the veins and arteries of his left arm. He nearly cut the limb from his body. He had been committed for swindling emigrants.

LET'S all be honest and confess that the cash system in business is best and safest. If everybody adhered to it, dull times would soon flee away, and the wail of widows and orphans, and the deep curses of defrauded creditors, would give place to singing. For no bad debts, no smash-ups, no protested notes, ever came of cash payment for goods delivered. We honor Oak Hall, the great Philadelphia Clothing House, for their decided stand on this principle. Of course they are able to sell cheaper, because they buy cheaper. Those who have the cash to spend for clothing cannot possibly get more for it than at Wanamaker & Brown's Sixth and Market Streets, Philadelphia.

DIED.
June 18th, at Philadelphia, Rachel S. Vail, relict of Dr. Charles Vail, formerly of this place, aged 77 years and 15 days.
The deceased was a daughter of John Stroud, and grand daughter of Col. Jacob Stroud, the founder of this place. She has been a member of the Presbyterian Church for more than 40 years past. She was a resident of Stroudsburg until the last 15 years, when she left this place to reside with her son, Lewis D. Vail, Esq., in Philadelphia. Her remains were brought to this place yesterday and interred in the Old Cemetery Grounds beside the body of her husband.—The funeral services were held in the Presbyterian Church yesterday, and a large concourse of her relatives and old friends and neighbors were in attendance.
In Coolbaugh, on the 17th inst. Elizabeth, daughter of William and Margaret Wadden.
